About Me

I am a CSE Data Science student and I love to play with data. Data related projects excite me a lot. I want to contribute and learn with this opportunity and make the most out of it. Yes I have worked on several projects during Engineering journey so far. I have been recently working on a HTML CSS JS project which is called English Vocabulary Enhancer which is a English Language Vocabulary Enhancer which works on a dynamic word shifting algorithm that we implemented ourselves in javascript. The app shifts the difficulty of each word dynamically as per users responses. We even created the whole word meaning data set by ourselves using webscraping in beautifulsoup and selenium in python. Then we trained a linear regression model to do the difficulty assigning of each word in which we got 92 percent accuracy.
